PANTHER TO MEET AGGIES ON CINDER TRACK SATURDAY

First Meet of Season Is Only One Which Will Be Run at Home

CLOSE FIGHT FOR POINTS EXPECTED

Long and Careful Training Expected To Offset Lack of Experience

The blue-jerseyed runners will take part in their first meet of the season and the only one on the home track when they meet M. A. C. Saturday afternoon. With favorable weather conditions, the meet should be unusually interesting for the two teams appear to be nearly evenly matched.

Coach Brown's squad is to a large extent made up of new men, for there are only three or four letter winners of former years left in college. However, the careful training which the men have received in the past four months makes it a certainty that the strength of the team will not fall far below that of former years when Middlebury was winning the state championship consistently.

The Aggies are a new comer on the track schedule but it is expected that they will put up as strong a fight on the cinders as they have on the basketball court and hockey rink. They will compete with the advantage of having the experience of one meet behind them. Last Saturday they met Tufts and won by a margin of about five points. Judging from the records made in that meet and the strength shown in the Middlebury trials there is not much to pick between the two teams. Difference in weather conditions, though, might affect the records somewhat. The outstanding star for the Aggies is Sniffen, who is a flash in the dashes and covers about 21 feet in the broad jump. The Aggies are said to be strong in the distance events also.

Coach Brown has not yet definitely decided who will start in each of the events. In most cases it will be the three or four who did the best work in the trials but in cases where a man placed well in more than one event, he may be saved for the race where he is most needed.

In both the century and the 220, Smith '29, should hold his own with Sniffen. Smith has a wonderful prep school record and under favorable conditions is capable of covering the hundred in ten flat. In the final trials he took first place in both dash events. Adams '27 took second in both while Brooks was third in the hundred and Fales third in the 220. These men will probably start.

In the trials held last Saturday in the half mile Arnold took first, C. G. Hoyt second and Farnham third. In the two mile run, Kelley led the field with Robinson behind him and Butler third. No trials were held in the hurdles. Captain Schaefer will jump the tall timber while he and Blanchett will enter the low event. In the pole vault, Williams '29, Waldo and Tomlinson did the best work in the order named. Hyman did not compete because of a strained side but will enter Saturday's meet.

Potter, McLaughlin, Smith, Davis, Jones and Eddy all have made good showings in the field events and three or four will be entered in each one.

The Aggie meet Saturday will give the followers of the track team a good

WHILE SENIORS EAT, THE JUNIORS SLEEP

Girls of Twenty-Seven Dream of Dates and Heaven, as Seniors Munch Toast and of Victory Boast

Cheers and snappy songs awoke the women's side of the Hill at the early hour of four, Sunday morning. At first everyone wondered what it was all about, but the junior girls soon understood. From dreamland they passed to a world of lively reality, when they found that the clever senior girls had won over them and succeeded in having their annual breakfast which it is the juniors' duty to prevent.

The class of '27 had evidently been in a deep slumber all the while the members of '26 were making their plans. The seniors arose at two a. m., and went to the Sigma Kappa rooms, where a delicious breakfast was served, the weather preventing the usual joy of eating out of doors. However, the bacon, toast, hot dogs, oranges, coffee, and doughnuts tasted just as well inside, and perhaps much better, since it was all done in perfect secrecy. After the pleasant repast, the seniors marched in a body to Recitation Hall, where they joyfully sang and cheered. The juniors, upon being aroused, thought their opponents had just started out, and hastened to catch them. But forty wide-awake girls met them and informed them that the breakfast had been heartily enjoyed.

This is the first time in three years that the senior class has been able to "put one over" on the juniors. The girls of '26 should be especially congratulated since they both succeeded in having their own breakfast and in preventing last year's class from hav-

GLEE CLUB CONCERT IS PRAISED AS ONE OF BEST IN YEARS

"Music of High Quality" Says Critic; Thomson's Work Well Received

By DOREMI

The Glee Club concert Friday evening was an extremely creditable performance and those who missed it, missed something of real value in the musical line. Those who keep in close touch with the musical events of the college consider it the most well-rounded program given in the past four years. With very few exceptions the numbers were given with a splendid finish. The opening chorus from "Robin Hood" failed to set the pace for the concert. While it was well sung, it lacked the gay, rollicking quality that it demands and went heavily. "Yoeman's Wedding Song" by Ponistowski was very well done and enthusiastically received by the audience. From then on the Glee Club was assured the support of a well-pleased house. The two Russian Folk Songs were something new on Middlebury Glee Club programs and were artistically done. Such a high quality of music speaks splendidly of the music department and indicates the class of work that can be done if attempted.

The outstanding features of the evening were the baritone solos by Mr. Newcomb '27 and the violin solos by Mr. Thomson '29. Both were exceptionally fine. The people who may look forward to three more years of music from Mr. Thomson's violin are to be envied. Already he stands near the head of the list in the musical annals of Middlebury.

The Male Quartet was very well received. It is not often that four voices blend and balance as well as these. Of the first group of songs, "Sylvia" by Speaks, was the better number. Schuman's "Dreaming Lake" is better suited for chorus work than for quartette. The Sailor Chanteys were the brightest spot on the program.

There is just one criticism to make of the whole program. For one of such high quality it was rather long. There seemed to be too little variation from number to number.

With the big advancement that the club has made in the last five years, it is hoped that the high standard will be maintained from year to year. There

THE CAMPUS ELECTS LLOYD C. HARRIS '27 AS EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Former Sporting Editor Has Been Prominent On Publications

H. P. GRAVES NAMED BUSINESS MANAGER

Abbott To Be Managing Editor; Gordon and Theve Head Women's Staff

Lloyd C. Harris '27 of South Hadley Falls, Mass., was chosen editor-in-chief of the CAMPUS for the coming year, at the annual election of the board held in the publications office Thursday afternoon. At the same time, Harry P. Graves '27, of Edgewood, R. I., was unanimously elected to the position of business manager.

The newly created office of managing editor will be filled by Celian H. Abbott '28 of Winchendon, Mass. Martha E. Gordon '27 of Blairstown, N. J., was elected women's editor and Jeanne J. Theve '27 of Norwich, Conn., associate business manager.

The new staff is headed by a man who has had an unusual amount of experience in college publications. Entering college with the class of 1926, Mr. Harris in his freshman year became an assistant editor on the staff of the CAMPUS and first editor of the Blue Baboon, of which he was one of the founders. In the college years of 1923-24 and 1924-25, Mr. Harris was in Middlebury only two semesters but during this period he served at different times as managing editor of the Press club, sporting editor of the 1926 Kaleidoscope, and contributing editor of the Blue Baboon. Returning to college last fall, he was again elected editor-in-chief of the Blue Baboon, and in October became managing editor of the Press club. Since November he has served as sporting editor of the CAMPUS. Mr. Harris has also had experience on city newspapers and so is admirably qualified for the position of editor-in-chief. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Mr. Graves, the new manager, has been an assistant business manager during the past year. He is also on the business staff of the Saxonian. He is a member of Sages and of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The managing editor, Mr. Abbott, is qualified for his position by two years of work on the editorial staff, the past year as assistant editor. He was an assistant editor of the Handbook and has been active on various committees. Abbott is a member of Delta Tau and of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Miss Gordon, who has been elected to the new position of women's editor, has been an assistant editor during the past year and is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Miss Theve, the new associate manager, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The remainder of the board which was chosen at Thursday's election is as follows: Sporting editor, Charles F. Malam '28 of St. Johnsbury; assistant editors, W. Storrs Lee '28 of Baltic, Conn., Frank A. DeWitt '29 of Brattleboro, Alice Fales '28 of Detroit, Mich., Anna M. Belisle '28 of Fall River, Mass., and Florence C. Porter '28 of Turners Falls, Mass.; advertising manager, Philip E. Dempsey '28 of Montpelier; circulation manager, Florence G. Wyman of Starksboro; assistant managers, Frederick O. Vol. XXII. April 28, 1926 No. 26

FINIS

The time has come when we must bring our work to a close and entrust the editorial pen to other hands. The new Campus board has been selected and will take charge of the paper next week.

It may be fitting at this time for us to glance over and summarize our record for the year. Much to our regret the pressure of mechanical work in the publishing of the paper made it impossible to formulate any definite editorial policy and follow it throughout the year. Our line of attack has had to be a general one, in a rather hit and miss style, but we have always tried to conform to the general aim of working for the good of the college.

In our editorial columns we have taken up matters which seemed to need or deserve attention. At times, what we have said has been as useless as any effort to stop the wind would be—for instance, our effort to have the freshmen in Hepburn Commons eat more slowly. At other times, definite results have immediately been brought about, as for example our suggestions in regard to the chapel seating plan and the Old Chapel doors. As to their degree of definitely measurable success, our other editorials have varied greatly. Our greatest hope is that they have made students and alumni think, even if only slightly, about the matters brought up. Although our editorial on managerial competition was criticized for going too far, and although it is said that some action was already being considered, we believe that we can take some credit for the new system. We have consistently advocated greater emphasis on winter sports on the part of the college and, although no results have been seen as yet, we hold the hope that the idea may have found root somewhere and may grow into something definite.

We take more pride, in the news columns of the paper than we do in the editorial column. We believe that our news has been fairly comprehensive, has been decently written and has been as nearly up-to-date as it possibly can be in a weekly. Mistakes have cropped out, to be sure, but most of them can be directly attributed to the rush involved in getting last minute news into the paper. We have consistently printed Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning news, even of events which have taken place out-of-town.

Besides presenting the news which has occurred, we have taken the initiative in several campus affairs. When there seemed to be some sentiment in favor of having Sunday Chapel at seven, the Campus endeavored to crystallize opinion by means of a poll, with the result that it was found that only a small minority was actively interested in the matter. When the World Court was being discussed in all the colleges of the country, we gave information on it and took a poll among Middlebury students.

Later, in an effort to get a usable idea for the disposition of the Old Chapel room, the Campus served as an agency for the collection and judging of the suggestions.

Although evidence in the past week or two seems to point to the contrary, we believe we have stirred up some active thought among the students and alumni. Proof of this is the fact that in the past few months a greater number of communications on live topics have been received than in any corresponding period since we have been in college.

Though time alone will prove it, we believe that our greatest accomplishment is that of the reorganization of the staff on a new basis. In the past, various insurmountable difficulties have made it impossible for the Campus to carry on any definite, constructive editorial policy. The editor has had so much to do that he could not devote his best efforts to editorials.

If our new plan works out in the way that we have every reason to believe that it will, the Campus will be more of a factor in promoting student thought than ever before. The editor-in-chief, with none of the mechanical details to distract him, can devote to his work the time and thought which is necessary if his column is really to carry a vital message. At the same time, the managing editor can concentrate on the news columns and put out a more readable and well-balanced paper.

The work of the past year has offered its difficulties and its problems, but we have enjoyed it. The business of trying to please the all-critical student body and the ever careful faculty has not always been easy or pleasant. We now turn over the task to a new staff, with best wishes for its success.

RELEASE THE NEWS

The service which this paper can render depends largely on the amount of news that it can print each week. News is news only when it is new. Therefore, if you know of any, cooperate with the editors and give it to them. Don't wait until a thing is common knowledge all over the campus before you give it to the paper. Remember that plans do not have to be complete before they are ready for release. If you are the manager of a team or the chairman of a committee on arrangements, keep constantly in touch with the editors, allowing them to print news of the steps in your work rather than just a single story of the completed plans. It will keep up general interest in your work as well as furnishing real news for the paper.

One of the great troubles here, one which is common to everyone from the trustees down to the chairman of the least important undergraduate committee, is an over-abundance of close-mouthedness. By keeping everlastingly after news, we have overcome this to a certain extent in the past year but there is still much to be desired. The Campus can never be a real, live, wide-awake paper, until those who control the sources of news cooperate.

WEEK-END SOCIAL EVENTS

Sigma Phi Epsilon Formal

Gaiety predominated at the Playhouse Saturday evening when Sigma Phi Epsilon held its annual spring dance. Thirty-five couples danced to the excellent music furnished by Walt Riggin and his orchestra of Bloomfield, N. J.

The hall was decorated in red and purple, the fraternity colors, which formed a canopy over the dancers. Potted evergreen trees and a sylvan waterfall added to the attractiveness. The feature of the evening was the "Sig Ep Girl" number, during which the dancers threw confetti in great quantities. Refreshments were served at the house during intermission.

The patrons and patronesses were Prof. and Mrs. Raymond L. Barney, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Haller, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. Maud O. Mason and Dean Burt A. Hazeltine. Representatives from other fraternities were Marshall B. Hardy, '26, Alpha Sigma Phi; Ralph G. Lilly, '26, Beta Kappa; John E. Connelly, '26, Chi Psi; W. Ransom Rice, '26, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Robert E. Fuller, '28, Delta Sigma; Alton R. Huntington, '27, Kappa Delta Rho; and James S. Jackson, '26.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Marie Louise Babcock, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Miss Jean H. Eshleman, Wellesley College; Miss Elsie Smith, Rutherford, N. J.; Miss Gladys Howland, Wellesley College; Miss Clara Hunt, Rutland; Miss Helen Taylor, '24, Johnstown, N. Y.; Miss Helen Halpin, Rutherford, N. J.; Miss Gladys Mowry, Boston, Mass.; Miss Elizabeth Ston, Salem, N. Y.

K. K. G. Formal In Gym

The annual formal dance of Gamma Lambda chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was held in McCullough Gymnasium Saturday evening. The decorations were of an oriental variety and Paul Rider's orchestra of Burlington furnished music. The patrons and patronesses were Miss Eleanor S. Ross, Dr. and Mrs. Phillip E. Mellen, Mr. and Mrs. George H. V. Allen, and Prof. and Mrs. Charles A. Adams. Representatives included, Eleanor Frost, Pi Beta Phi; Ruth Jackson, Sigma Kappa; Mabel Benedict, Delta Delta Delta; Clara Park, Alpha Xi Delta; Elizabeth Kelley, Phi Mu, and Ruth Sibley.

Informal at Hepburn

Fifteen couples attended an informal dance in Hepburn Saturday evening. Music was furnished by Gruggel and Higgins. Professor and Mrs. Hathaway chaperoned.

COMMUNICATION

The Faculty Says—

CAVEANT DISCIPULI

Busy days are in store for the Middlebury students next year. With the curriculum committee helping to make courses all that they should be and with twenty per cent. of the juniors and seniors having to consider carefully the wisdom or folly of cutting a given class instead of thoughtlessly rejoicing upon a cut given them, the students will have to be on their toes every minute.

COMMUNICATION

"Blank Column Symbolizes Blank Mind," Says Senior, Scoring Intellectual Laziness of Students

To the Editor of The Campus:

Your blank column of last week seems but another indication that "student opinion is dormant," not only at the present time but at all times. This state of affairs makes one wonder how much college is doing for the young men and women who find their way to college each year. Not that it is necessarily the fault of the college. But whose fault is it that students do not think, that they deliberately take everything for granted and think that present conditions are the best? What sort of citizenship does such blank-mindedness prophecy? Not only does this apply to problems of college life but to national and international affairs. Except for a very small minority, students are not interested. The sport pages and pictorial sections of the newspapers in the library are the only popular sources of interest. We are lazy-minded; we want thrills! The Chapman case caused much more discussion than the Locarno Pact or the last session of the League of Nations. We do not even seem willing to be told. The small percent of students in the audience to hear Norman Angell is a proof of this.

Such facts force an unpleasant conclusion upon us. There are a great many in college who might just as well be elsewhere. Except for a little superficial culture they are getting nothing, and that culture, like a cheap veneer, threatens to be temporary. Instead of being leaders, we shall be led. We do not show the ability to evaluate between the important and the unimportant: People who will not consider the problems in their own community (and college is our community) most certainly will not concern themselves with national and international problems. We might as well admit frankly that the blank column symbolizes a blank mind.

COLLEGE AUDIENCE WILL ENJOY PLAY

Junior Production, "Honor Bright," Has Interesting Situations

"A play which will be of real interest to a college audience," is the way those who have seen the rehearsals of "Honor Bright," the Junior Play characterize it. In this respect it conforms to the advice of George G. Nathan, the eminent dramatic critic, who in a recent issue of Judge, beseeched all college dramatic societies to attempt to present more plays relating to their own life and environment. The varying success of dramatic productions at Middlebury in past years has borne out the truth of this idea.

At the opening of the play, the young ex-collegian, Richard Barrington, is engaged to marry a chorus girl of the Snap It Up Company, who bears the illuminating appellation of Tot Marvel. A telegram which makes its arrival at an early stage of the plot, reveals the distressing fact that the bride-elect is altogether too illuminated to keep an appointment to make the acquaintance of the parents and associates of her prospective spouse, whereupon the problem of procuring a substitute confronts the young man. A solution presents itself in the form of Honor Bright a Radcliffe girl who is seeking to make her way through college by selling books. She is persuaded to masquerade as Tot Marvel, and the humorous situation which ensues is only heightened by the arrival of the real Tot on the scene at a most critical moment.

But to expose any more of the intricacies of the composition would be to detract from the ultimate pleasure of those who plan to take advantage of the approaching opportunities to see the finished production. Seats go on sale Monday at Frost's Pharmacy.

Addison House Closes Saturday

Due to the extensive alterations to be made in the Addison House during the summer, the hotel will close its doors Saturday, May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, who have been in charge during the past few months will leave immediately for Bethlehem, N. H., where they operate the large summer hotel on Strawberry Hill.

Fales Elected President Of Interfraternity Council

William F. Fales, '27, was elected president and Napoleon J. Blanchett, '28, secretary and treasurer of the Interfraternity Council at a meeting held Monday afternoon. Fales is also president of the class of 1927, a member of the track squad and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. Blanchett is on the track squad and a member of Chi Psi.

Representatives from Delta Sigma, the newest fraternity in the council, are R. B. Stoughton, '27, and W. L. Benson, '28. The new men from other fraternities are N. J. Blanchett, Chi Psi; R. A. Furbush, Delta Kappa Epsilon; C. A. Lockwood, Kappa Delta Rho; D. L. Lindsley, Beta Kappa; A. B. Hilliard, Sigma Phi Epsilon; A. D. Leahy, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Alpha Sig and K.D.R. Start Baseball Season With Wins

In the first of the interfraternity baseball games, Alpha Sigma Phi defeated Beta Kappa by the score of 16 to 6. The game was played Saturday afternoon on Porter Field. The game was interesting in the early innings but soon turned into a walkaway for the Alpha Sigs. Hendrix made a home run. Begley pitched for the winners and Stearns for the losers. Prof. Swett was umpire.

The second game Saturday afternoon was even more one-sided than the first, Kappa Delta Rho defeating Delta Sigma, 22 to 4 in five innings. Stewart pitched an air-tight game for K. D. R. while Benson and Pratt worked on the mound for the losers with little success.

Plans Completed For Banquet at Chateau

Plans have been completed for the banquet which will be held at the Chateau Monday evening. The event will be in honor of Professor Andre Morize of Harvard who is the advisor of the French School and who will be its director during the summer session. A program of after-dinner speeches has been arranged. Both students and faculty members will be among the speakers.

In the evening, a French play will be presented in the salon, to which all those interested in French are invited. In preparation for the event, Chateau residents have been practising some new French songs.

SAXONIAN REVIEW

Along with its tempestuous gales, its thunder storms, its snow, sleet, and occasional sunshine, Spring brings us another issue of the Saxonian. We hardly recognize our old friend in new garb. For it is new—new from the symbolic front cover, to the "German Baker with Good Service" on the last page.

Perhaps most outstanding are the three book reviews. Each is skillfully handled and ventures to convey an opinion without becoming entangled in an insignificant resume. The short stories are rather above par, especially "Half Pint." Mr. Hoyt has succeeded in creating an interesting character and in building about him a cleverly handled plot. It is not often that we have alumni contributions to the Saxonian, but both those appearing in this issue can make us wish that there might be more.

"The Note Book" is growing and we are glad, for in it are to be found some delightfully refreshing thoughts and observations.

Well balanced in all its departments, and representing a decided improvement over the last issue, the "Spring Number" has succeeded in approaching the standard that a Middlebury literary publication should attain. This should serve as a stimulus to further creative effort to those on whom its future must soon be placed. c. e.

Men's Glee Club Leaves Tuesday For Last Trip

The Men's Glee Club, after having given a successful home concert, leaves next week for its most extensive tour of the season. It will also be its last. Leaving Middlebury Tuesday morning, the club will appear that evening in Keene, N. H. Wednesday evening a concert will be given in New Britain, Conn., where a successful performance was given last year. On the return trip concerts will be given in Springfield, Mass., and Rutland, Vt., Thursday and Friday evenings. Return to Middlebury will be made Saturday morning, May 8.

Tennis Team Opens Season On Friday

Four members of the tennis team leave Middlebury tomorrow for Annandale-on-the-Hudson where they will meet St. Stephen's Friday in the first match of the season. Though handicapped by a lack of proper practise, they are confident that they will be able to make a good showing against their opponents. Yesterday the team went to Burlington again and played for the entire afternoon on the cement courts there. With the exception of a previous trip to Burlington, all the practise has taken place in the handball courts in the gymnasium.

Saturday, the Blue plays R. P. I. at Troy. The four men who will make the trip are Capt. Hickcox, Hindes, Wolfskehl and Young. The first three are veterans of last year. Twichell, another veteran, is not making this trip but will play in the matches on the remainder of the schedule.

Heavy Hitting In First Inning Wins For S. P. E.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon nine defeated the Neutrals yesterday afternoon on Freshman Field by a score of 8 to 4. The winners pounded Pernaa hard in the first inning, tallying six of their runs. The remainder of the game was fairly well played with Gonsalves pitching good ball for the Neutrals and Keene doing good work on the mound for the Sig Eps. Prof. J. P. Davison was umpire and Posner scorer.

Chipman Hill Endangered By Forbidden Fire

A small fire with which some students had cooked their lunch on Chipman Hill last night was not thoroughly put out and had begun to spread when the quick action of a passerby stopped it. Town authorities wish to have it called to the attention of college students that fires of any kind are absolutely prohibited on Chipman Hill because of the great hazard that they involve. At this time of year it would be very easy for a blaze to sweep over the entire top of the hill, thus ruining the beauty of the place.

FIRST HOME GAME IS WITH CLARKSON

Cancellation of Manhattan Game Will Give Team Needed Practise

Middlebury's first home game of the season which was scheduled with Manhattan College for next Monday afternoon has been cancelled. The Metropolitan nine had games carded with both Norwich and Vermont but due to lack of financial support the games with all three Vermont institutions have been cancelled. Accordingly the next game for Middlebury will be played a week from Friday when the Blue and White nine will meet the Clarkson team on Porter Field.

The cancellation by Manhattan will give Coach Klevenow practically two full weeks of practise before the team starts the major part of its program. With the condition of Porter Field greatly improved, the team should rapidly round into top form and be in fine trim for the Clarkson contest.

During the next week or two the coach will stack his varsity combinations against the various fraternity teams in practise sessions. No definite team has been decided on and it is likely that the Clarkson game will see a revamped Middlebury nine on the diamond.

Speaker Explains Need Of Understanding Values

Bishop Booth of Burlington spoke at vespers Sunday on the necessity for understanding the values of things.

"The blind man," he said, "had one request to make of Jesus. It was that his sight should be given him. If you had the opportunity to make some one request, you would do well to ask for second sight, for an insight into values and relationships. Thereby your life will be strengthened and enriched and you will come to an appreciation of spiritual values and of God."

BLACK PANTHER NINE EASILY DEFEATED IN FIRST THREE GAMES

Faulty Fielding Proves Costly; Pitchers' Work Shows Promise

Middlebury lost the first three games of the season on successive days last week when the Blue and White team was defeated 7-1 by Springfield, 10-3 by Wesleyan and 8-2 by Amherst. Middlebury was handicapped from the outset by lack of training due to the fact that the men had had but a week's outdoor practise before leaving. Although they worked out in Springfield three days before the first game the cold weather greatly held up their progress.

Poor fielding was largely responsible for Middlebury's defeats as the men did not handle the ball with any amount of skill in tight places and oftentimes this cost runs for Middlebury. This was not unexpected for the fielders had but three days of practise on a real diamond while their opponents had been working out for some time.

In spite of the three defeats Coach Klevenow is highly optimistic about the team. The pitchers' work was in every way satisfactory and the prospects are bright for a strong team in the Clarkson game.

Several combinations were tried in the first three games and several shifts will be made in the lineup before a team is definitely selected that will go through the season.

No Candidates Receive Majority In Voting

Elections for the positions of assistant managers of basketball and hockey were not completed at last night's meeting of the Undergraduate Association when none of the candidates received majorities on the second ballot. For basketball, Billings and Stearns remain in the running and will be voted on at the next meeting. For hockey, Kinne and Dempsey received the most votes and one of the two will be chosen as assistant manager. These elections are the last which will be held under the old system of undergraduate voting. Beginning with the competition for baseball manager this season, men will be elected by the new plan which gives votes to those in closest touch with the situation.

In recognition of his services as both coach and captain of hockey during the past season, William J. Mc Laughlin '26 was presented a silver loving cup by the Undergraduate Association. The presentation was made at last night's meeting by President Rice. No other business was transacted.

Green Mountain Club Holds Annual Meeting

Illustrated Lecture On Long Trail Given; Plan Activity For Coming Season

The annual meeting of the Lake Pleiad Section of the Green Mountain club was held Wednesday evening, April 21, in the Chemistry building at the college. The main feature of the meeting was an illustrated lecture on The Long Trail by Mr. Theron S. Dean, of Burlington, for many years a trustee and active worker in the Green Mountain club. About 125 enthusiasts attended the lecture. Mr. Dean took his audience over two hundred miles of trail between Bennington and Johnson, describing the activities of the club and showing by many colored slides the delightful scenery of state. One of the special features of his lecture was a map showing the portion of the Trail being developed and maintained by the Lake Pleiad Section and a strong appeal to all to support trail work.

Preceding the lecture, a short business meeting of the section was held. The secretary's report showed a membership of 63 for 1925. Eleven new memberships have been received thus far this year.

The 1926 season promises to be a very active one for the section and a big program of trail development is planned. After the usual clearing out of the trail at the beginning of the season, it is planned to complete the erection of Boyce Lodge on Boyce Mountain, which will be used as headquarters in relocating and rebuilding some six miles of new trail between Burnt Hill and Mt. Wilson. A tower will be erected on the north peak of Bread Loaf and it is planned to build another lodge between the peaks of Bread Loaf and Mt. Wilson.

The following officers were elected for 1926: President, Professor V. C. Harrington; Vice President, Rev. E. W. Gould; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Haller; Chairman Trails Com., Prof. P. C. Voter.

OSBORNE SWINGS BAT FOR AVERAGE OF .666

Batting Averages For First Three Games Compiled; Smith Rates Big at Northampton

The batting averages for the Blue and White nine in its first three games, as compiled by Coach Klevenow, shows Osborne to be leading in the stick work with an average of .666. Sorenson is second with .333 and Capt. Novotny and Palmer hold third honors with an average of .250. Although not appearing in the team figures a report from the Smith College Athletic Association this morning shows that Manager L. Adelbert Smith had a batting average of .1000 in his contest at Northampton Saturday night. If included in the team average this would greatly fatten the percentage of hits amassed by the Black Panther ball club.

The individual average follows:

	A.B.	H.	Pct.
Osborne	9	6	.666
Sorenson	3	1	.333
Novotny	12	3	.250
Palmer	4	1	.250
Anderson	12	2	.166
Rice	13	2	.154
W. Hasseltine	7	1	.142
Marchukaitis	10	1	.100
Conley	11	1	.091
E. Hasseltine	7	0	.000
Williams	4	0	.000
Hingston	1	0	.000
Lankes	3	0	.000
